with us, but especially did I wish for you when we witnessed the performance of the Passion Play at Oberammergau. To describe this play is beyond my power—it must be seen to be appreciated—but I would not have missed seeing it for anything, and our trip to the quaint little village of Oberammergau was one of the most enjoyable of our entire tour. We left Munich at 9:06 a.m., Aug 4th, and after a run of four hours were landed at the station in Oberammergau. It was raining and the streets were muddy and full of tourists, all eagerly hunting lodging places. We had no trouble finding our quarters, which we had previously secured through Messrs. Cook & Sons, and soon found ourselves housed in one of the best cottages in Oberammergan, with an interval of one hour and a half to family with whom we stayed, and nine fine Jersey cows and two horses, all under the same roof.

Oberammergan is a rural gemeentirely unlike any of the other villages of its size that we have seen in Europe. The houses are built of stone, plastered over, and the roofs are covered with boards held on by numbers of large stones laid all over the roof. Many of the houses have the outer walls painted with queer looking pictures representing biblical seenes. The accommodations which they offer, however, are comfortable and invariably clean, not withstanding the habit the natives have of using one end of their residences for a stable. The scenery around Oberammergan is very pretty. It is situated at the month of a monthain gorge opening into a valley. High peaks enclose it on one side, while on the other the green hills stretch far away into the distance. SHOT SIX MEN.

Stood at the Mouth of the Mine and Fired at Every One in Sighter The Murderer Killed.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 23.-Jerry Thomas, a one-armed helper in Mine No. 5 of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Co., at Pratt City, enraged over a fancied insult offered him by Mine Foreman George Lambert, and armed with a repeating shotgun and a big Colt's pistol, held 500 miners at bay, after shooting six men. Lambert had ordered Thomas from the mine because he was intoxicated. Going home, Thomas armed himself, and returning, stationed himself at the mouth of the mine, and shot at every man who came out at the close of the day's work. Lambert was the first to appear. Two loads were fired at him, but neither took effect. Soon after Asbury Elliott, white, a miner, appeared, and Thomas shot him down promptly. William Yeager was his next victim. Then he shot John Williams and Allen Davis, colored miners. John Jaynes, a white miner, got a bullet in the abdomen. Word was then sent into the mine, and the 500 men inside who were about to come out were warned. Thomas held them prisoners until he grew tired.

Afterward he went to the engine house and wounded Engineer Henry Jordan, who replied with a 44caliber Colt's. Jordan's bullet took effect in Thomas's abdomen, producing a fatal wound. All of Thomas' victims except two were shot with squirrel shot, and Jaynes and Yeager are the only ones likely to die.

A Colored Man Saved By a Timely Removal, at Akron, O.

As a Result of the Riot Two People Were Killed and Another Fataily Injured and Many Others Hurt.

Akron, O., Aug. 23.—Between 1 and 2 o'clock Wednesday morning Officer John Duffy arrested a colored man who, during the day, confessed to Prison Keeper Washer of having attempted, on Monday night, to assault Christina, the 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Maas, industrious and respectable people who live on Perkins Hill. The prisoner gave his name as Louis Peck. He is about 40 years old. The story of his confession spread like wildfire through the city and officers learned that an attempt would be made to lynch him.

Several thousand people gathered about the bity prison at 8:30 o'clock and forced in the doors. The prison was soon packed with the mob and the officers offered no resistance as Peck, earlier in the evening, had been quietly taken away to Cleveland. To satisfy the mob the officers suggested that a committee of six be appointed search all the cells and go through every part of the buildings. This was done and as the negro was not found a yell was made "now for the county jail. Give us the nigger and we will deal with him."

Mad Rush For the Jail. A mad rush followed for the jail and soon the jail was in the hands of the mob. After going through the private apartments of the jail the erowd started to batter down the iron doors. Deputy Sheriff Stone stood in front of the prison doors and made a speech. He informed the crowd that Peck could not be found in there and he told the people in the mob to select a committee and he would allow the committee to search the jail from top to bottom. A comittee was quickly selected and the jail was searched, every cell being peered into.

Satisfied that the Negro was not there the mob rushed across the street and forced open the doors of the county court house. The old court house was soon packed and all rooms searched except the rooms in the treasury department. A start was made to tear off the iron of the treasury department but the mob decided not to tackle the job, and then the thousands of men and boys again rushed back to the city prison crying for the blood of Peck. The city prison was again surrounded and hundreds of people who forced their way into the prison for the second time insisting that Peck was there.

VAICHING DESTRUCTIVE FOREST FIRES.

The Loss in Colorado and Wyoming Will Probably Aggregate Ten Million Dollars.

Denver, Col., Aug. 22.-Ten million dollars, it is estimated, will be the damage, present and prospective, caused by the forest fires now sweeping over the mountains of Colorado and Wyoming. According to General Land Agent Wantland, of the Union Pacific road, the loss of timber burned is only a comparatively small item in the total amount of damage.

"In many places," he said, "the fires are spreading over almost bare country land, where there is nothing but young growth, which might have made the forest of ten and twenty years hence if it had not been for these fires.

Save Your Hair with Shampoos of

And light dressings of CUTICURA, purest of emollient skin cures. This treatment at once stops falling hair, removes crusts; scales, and dandruff, soothes irritated, itching surfaces, stimulates the hair follicles, supplies the roots with energy and nourishment, and makes the hair grow upon a sweet, wholesome, healthy scalp when all else fails.

Millions of Women

Use CUTICURA SOAP exclusively for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and healing, red, rough, and sore hands, in the form of baths for annoying irritations and chafings, or too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for ulcerative weaknesses, and for many antiscptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, and especially mothers, and for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. No amount of persuasion can induce those who have once used it to use any other, especially for preserving and purifying the skin, scalp, and hair of infants and children. CUTICURA SOAP combines delicate emollient properties derived from CUTICURA, the great skin cure, with the purest of cleansing ingredients, and the most refreshing of flower odors. No other medicated soap ever compounded is to be compared with it for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair, and hands. No other foreign or domestic toilet soap, however expensive, is to be compared with it for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. Thus it combines, in ONE SOAP at ONE PRICE, viz., TWENTY-FIVE CENTS, the BEST skin and complexion soap, the BEST toilet and BEST baby soap in the world.

All that has been said of CUTICURA SOAP may be said with even greater emphasis of CUTICURA Ointment, the most delicate, and yet most effective of emollients, and greatest of skin cures. Its use in connection with CUTICURA SOAP (as per directions around each package), in the "ONE NIGHT CURE FOR SORE HANDS," in the "INSTANT RELIEF TREATMENT FOR DISFIGURING ITCHINGS AND IRRITATIONS," and in many uses too numerous to mention, is sufficient to prove its superiority over all other preparations for the skin.

OHIO ELECTION LAW.

It May Be Used as a Model for a Substitute for the Goebel Act in Kentucky.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 23.-The Ohio election law is being investigated by a number of leading democrats with a view to proposing an exact copy of it for adoption by the legislature at its coming special session. The Ohio law, instead of placing the power in the hands of three commissioners, puts it all in charge of the secretary all election officers. If the Goebel law Ohio law will take its place. Under the Ohio law the secretary of state appoints bipartizan election officers in each county, except in large cities, where the mayor has the appointing power. Although the law does not require it, the custom has been for the secretary of state to appoint offieers recommended by the county commuttees of the respective parties.

There will be numerous candidates before the next legislature for the position, including Senator Dollivar, A. B. Cummins, Gov. Shaw, Congressman Lacey and probably others.

> Washington, Aug. 23.—The war department sent Gen. Chaffee a cablegram of four words, which practically takes things out of Minister Conger's hands and puts Gen. Chaffee in the position of the utmost responsibility. The message said: "Report operatiens, situation, requirements."

There is no intention of depreciating Minister Conger; the government has the liveliest sense of gratitude for him; but it is not deemed expedient to act on his dispatches because, after his troublesome experience, he is naturally embittered and possibly unconsciously biased, and because he needs and deserves a rest.

It is proposed to have Mr. Conger come home at the first opportunity and enjoy a long period of rest and recuperation.

> New York, Aug. 23.-Now that the attorneys for Charles F. W. Neely, formerly Cuban agent for the post office department, have filed an appeal to the United States supreme court, and as their elient cannot be taken to Cuba pending the appeal, it is learned from Neely's petition for a writ of habeas corpus, that his counsel has sworn that he believed the United States government had made arrangements for the placing of the petitioner on board an army transport for immediate transportation to Cuba, as soon as the necessary order for extradition had been signed, and the accused man secured and placed aboard ship. This plan, counsel asserted, was to prevent the petitioners from applying for a writ of habeas corpus.

United States District Attorney Burnett is absent but Assistant Pistriet Attorney Platt, when asked if the report was true, said that the United States supreme court would convene in October and that the Neely ease was at a standstill until that time. He would not either affirm or deny the reported government plan Botha, the commander in chief of to rush Neely outside the three mile ple. His wife was taken to the hoslimit.

The Ohio election law is being inves- Ask Fortigated by a number of leading Deniocrats with a view to proposing an exact copy of it for adoption by the Legislature at its coming special session.

The Ohio law, instead of placing the power in the hands of three commissioners, puts it all in charge of the Secretary of State, who has the appointment of all election officers. If the Goebel law is repealed at all, it seems likely the Ohio law will take its place. It is probable that a caucus of the Democrats will be called as soon as the Legislature meets to adopt some plan for the party to pursue in enacting a new law or in amending the old one.

There was a brief silence, broken at last by Sprague, who asked: "Has he escaped?"

Sturgis hesitated.

"That depends upon how we look at it," he said, gravely, at length; "he has paid the penalty of his crimes." "What do you mean?"

"He is dead," answered the reporter. "Dead? But I tell you I saw him-" "I know; but he has died sinee."

"Suicide?" "No;" the reporter's voice sank to a whisper; "murder." "Murder?" repeated the artist, startled. "But how do you know that?" "This lump of lead tells the story," said Sturgis, holding up the shapeless piece of metal which he had taken out of the vat. "What is it? A bullet?"

"Yes; the bullet which Chatham earried in his arm from the time that he was wounded by Arbogast, the bullet which has enabled me to trace him step by step, from his flight from the overturned cab to Dr. Thurston's and finally to his death in this very room; the bullet whose peculiar shape is recorded in this shadow picture taken by Thurston by means of the Roentgen ravs."

So saying, he handed Sprague the photograph. But the artist had ceased to listen.

"In this very room?" he mused aloud, looking about him with awe.

"Yes. The story is simple enough The man whose instrument Chathani was is not one who would eare to be lumbered up with tools, which become positively dangerous as soon as they cease to be useful. What mattered a human life or two, when weighed against the possible loss of his own life or tiherty, or of his high social standing and his enormous wealth; for this man is both renowned and rich, and he appears to have brought wholesale murder to a science.

"Do you mean to say that wholesale murder can be indulged in with inipunity in a city like New York, at the end of the nineteenth century?" asked Sprague, aghast. "Yes; when it is done in the systematie and scientifie manner that has been employed here. For this murderer is the most remarkable eriminal of modern times. He has not been satisfied with killing his victims; he has succeeded in completely wiping them out of existence. Criminals have often attempted to destroy the bodies of their victims, but they have never before succeeded as this man has. He is a chemist of remarkable talent, and he has discovered a compound in which bone as well as human tissue is rapidly and totally dissolved. There it is in yonder tank. See how completely the liquid has destroyed the bone handle of this knife.

Sturgis, after showing the damaged knife to his companion, resumed his whittling upon the eover of the box on which the artist was seated.

Presently Sprague ventured to say: "If numerous crimes have been coinmitted here, as you intimate, I do not understand how it is that suspicion has never rested on this house be-

His work is clean and leaves no blood-stains and no disorder to tell of its accomplishment. He takes life with his own hands only when he is forced to do so; but, when he does, his method is masterly. It was easier to make away with Chatham than to pay him the price agreed upon for his complicity in the Kniekerbocker bank embezzlement; and so his life was taken. I hope to discover

Sprague looked away from the honest eyes of the reporter, as if he dreaded to read in them the attswer to his next question.

"Who is this fiend incarnate, who is willing to traffic in his own flesh and blood, and with whom murder is a science?"

"The man who is capable of these crimes, and of any others which might serve to remove an obstacle from his way is-"

The reporter did not finish his sentence. He suddenly grasped his companion by the arm and stood transfixed, his eyes dilated, his neck craned in a listening attitude, every muscle tense like those of a wild animal in ambush about to spring upon its approaching prey.

Presently a click was heard as though a holt had been shot from its

Murdock, still holding the door ajar. eyed the two men for an instant, his impassive face betraying not the slightest sign of emotion. Then, taking his eigar from his lips:

"Ah, gentlemen," he drawled, in his ironical way, "I am delighted to see you. I trust you will make yourselves perfectly at home for a few minutes. I shall return directly. You can continue to work out your little probem in the meantime. Mr. Sturgis

And now that we have reached the conclusion of this interesting game, I have the honor to announce: 'Mate in one move!' Perhaps you are surprised that I should take the trouble to explain the situation to you so clearly. I do so in recognition of your superior intelligence. I see in you a peer. If matters could have been so arranged, I should have been proud to work in harmony with such a man as you; and indeed, when a short time ago I invited you to my laboratory, it was my intention to offer you a compromise which I hoped might be able to persuade you to aecept. I felt that you would prove an ally who could be trusted. But, alas, that is impossible now, on account of your friend's presence. With all due respect to Mr. Sprague, as an amiable man of the world and a prince of good fellows, it may be said that he is not one of us. Much to my sorrow, therefore. I am left no alternative to the eourse I am about to adopt. The fault, if anybody's, is your own, after all, Mr. Sprague. The Ludierous Mistake of an Oriental Diplomat Whose English Was Weak.

"In earlier days," said H. L. Wilson, of Washington, D. C., relates the New York Tribune, "a diplomat came to us from out the east who was a source of joy and never ending pleasure while he sojourned among us. His short, wellbuilt figure was surmounted by a head out of all proportion to the bady beneath, which to maintain a perfect symmetry should have been joined to a far larger trunk. This disproportion of head to body led a certain young wit of the capital to remark on first catching sight of the newcomer: 'He looks as if he'd picked up his head on a battlefield, doesn't he?' The visitor from the orient signalized his advent into the social life of Washington by giving a dinner, at which, he being a bachelor, the wife of a fellow-member of the corps acted as hostess. To her as she entered his house, adhering to a certain custom of the east, with a deep salaam he presented a salzer upon which rested some bread and salt and a highly chased key of pure gold, which supposedly gave entrance to his treasme chest, the whole combination testifying hospitality and confidence. Now, this key was very beautiful, and the wife of his fellow diplomat, having regarded it with a covetous eye when she found it presented to her, promptly put it into her pocket, and left it there; to the manifest and ill-concealed chagrin of her host. "In his first days in Washington, bu! after he had learned sufficient English to maintain a running conversation. he became amhitious, and essayed the idiom of the newly-acquired tongue with something of disaster to himself. for av a ball one evening he went up to a debntante and greeted her with: 'Ah hal I've got a tooth to pick with you.'

"He has gone from us now, but he has left a vacant place behind him, for he was a good fellow, and elever as well, and you were always sure that he would furnish constant food for talk the season through."

Swett Knew the Origin. The late Leonard Swett always prided himself on his ability to trace expressions to the welerivatives. On one occasion a man speaking to him referred to another as "a sou of a sea eook." Mr. Swett turned abruptly about and said: "That expression is not correct You mean the son of a sekawk, which is a perversion of the Indian name seally pronounced 'sekawk.' PON investigation nothing appears quite in accordance with one's preconceived idea, and it is probable that many people, if they should walk through the Chicago Ghetto, on a summer's day, wold find it less objectionable, in some respects, than they had anticipated. It depends much, of course, upon the frame of mind of the investigator. One should, under such circumstances, go prepared for the worst and hope for the best. If a police officer accompany the party, he will be found a valuable companion, as the information which he can furnish will save much walking around; and it is hardly to be conceived that people, not resident in the district, would care to make a prolonged stay.

I wonder why it is that so many men spend their days working hard on rented farms, barely making enough to get along, with no great prospect ahead of owning their own homes, when within a few hours' journey is a land of plenty -Nebraska-where all kinds of grain and fruit can be raised with the least amount of labor; where cattle and hogs fed on corn bring a handsome profit; where the climate is healthful and churches and schools abound; where land is cheap and can be bought on very easy terms.

MAM-M-MA!! DON'T YOU HEAR BABY CRY?

Do you forget that summer's coming with all its dangers to the little ones—all troubles bred in the bowels.

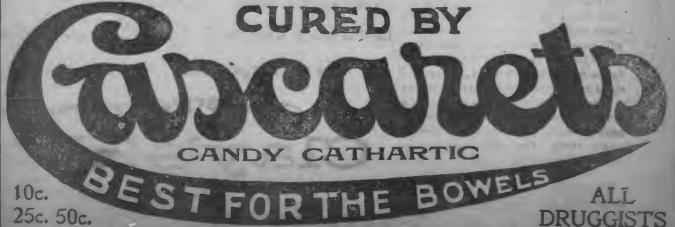

The summer's heat kills babies and little children because their little insides are not in good, clean, strong condition.

Winter has filled the system with bile. Belching, vomiting up of sour food, rash, flushed skin, colic, restlessness, diarrhoea or constipation, all testify that the bowels are out of order.

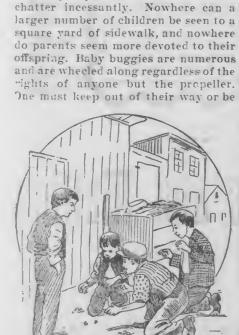

If you want the little ones to face the coming dangers without anxious fear for their lives, see that the baby's bowels are gently, soothingly, but positively cleaned out in the spring time, and made strong and healthy before hot weather sets in.

The only safe laxative for children, pleasant to take (they ask for more) is CASCARETS. Nursing mothers make their milk mildly purgative for the baby by eating a CASCARFT now and then. Mama eats a CASCARET, baby gets the benefit. Try it! Send for a 10c box of CASCARETS to-day and you will find that, as we guarantee, all irregularities of the little and big childrens insides are

Yes August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers, and grandmothers, never thought of using anything else for indigestion or billiousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicts, Nervons Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, simulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doces of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Sold by dealers in all civilized countries.

find their blood becomes weak and thin, and diseases that were easily controlled in earlier life begin to affect the constitution Those predisposed to Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Gout and other hereditary troubles may escape till then, but as they age the blood, so long tainted and weakened by accumulated waste matters, is no longer able to properly nourish the body, and it becomes an easy mark for disease. At this critical period of life the blood must be re-enforced before it can perform its legitimate functions and rid the system of these poisons, and nothing so surely and effectually does this as S. S. S.

S. S. S. strengthens and enriches the blood, improves the appetite, and builds up the general constitution. It is not only the best blood purifier, but the best tonic for old people. It warms the blood, tones up the nerves, removes all taint from the blood, and prevents the development of disease.

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood medicine known. Not one particle of mercury, potash or other mineral poison can be found in it, and it may be taken for any length of time without harm.

S. S. S. is the only remedy that reaches deep-seated blood tro '': like Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumaer, etc. It purifies and restores the blood to a healthy, normal con, and makes it impossible for the materials to accumulate.

any poisonous waste materials to accumulate.

If you have an old running sore or an obstinate ulcer that refuses to heal, or are troubled with boils and carbuncles, try S. S. S. It never fails to make a quick and permanent cure of these pests. If your system is run down and you feel the need of a tonic, S. S. S. will strengthen and help you as it has many others to a happy, healthy old age. S. S. S. cured Mr. H. Borden of Saumsville, Va., of a case of Exzema of thirty-five years' standing, after the best physicians in the surrounding country had failed. This was seven years ago, and there has been no return of the disease.

Mrs. D. R. Johnson, of Blackshear, Ga., was for years afflicted with a severe type of rheumatism, and had used every remedy known and recommended as a cure without receiving any benefit. S. S. S. promptly reached the seat of the disease and made a complete and permanent cure.

If you are in doubt about your disease, and will send us a statement of your case, our physician will give you any information or advice wanted, for which we make no charge.
